An advertisement for the NHS App. It features a woman named Elizabeth, a social worker, who is smiling and holding a smartphone. A speech bubble next to her says, "I use the NHS App to check my GP medical record and book appointments". Below her, a banner identifies her as "Elizabeth, social worker". At the bottom, there are instructions to "Download the NHS App" with icons for the App Store and Google Play, and a large "App" button.

Planned care advice

The NHS is working together to ensure people who need planned procedures can be treated as quickly and safely as possible

The people with the most urgent needs and those who have been waiting the longest are being prioritised

If you are due to have a routine procedure at your local hospital, you do not need to contact your GP or local hospital about your appointment

You have not been forgotten, and they will contact you once an appointment is available

For more information, advice and support, visit:

We are recruiting

Do you want to make a difference to people's lives?

There are many rewarding jobs and career opportunities in care and health right now

You don't necessarily need qualifications or previous work experience

What's important are your core skills and values and your attitude towards working with people who need care
